For Progress

"... Profound changes in social and economic conditions have forced members of all professional groups to make readjustment. The fact that these changes may result even in depriving professional people of opportunity formerly open to them does not justify or excuse their use of criminal methods to prevent changes or to destroy new institutions."

The Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia June 13 1942 handed down the above opinion in a case involving the medical profession and the broad principle stated in this decision is something for all industries and professions to consider.

The court continued to emphasize the changes that have come about in the modern world to greatly affect the status and income of various trades and professions. The court emphasized the fact that progress is a force that must continue with as little artificial hindrance and obstruction as possible. Trades and professions must adjust themselves to the revolutionary changes as they take place, rather than try to obstruct new methods, inventions and ideas.

The case has its parallel in all lines of business and industry. The automatic phonograph is a very modern development, utilizing the most advanced inventions in many industries to supply popular music to small retail establishments at low cost. It has been a great boon to the retail system and has introduced a new business for many thousands of people. Like all new industries, it competes with other businesses and professions in some ways, but time has proved the actual competition to be very small in comparison with many new ideas introduced in this modern age.

Just as the medical profession set out to stop new developments for promoting the public health, so powerful groups have undertaken to assess special fees and place other hindrances in the way of the automatic phonograph industry. More than one powerful organization has undertaken to interfere with the phonograph industry in this way or that.

In normal times it might be feasible to give full consideration to the demands being made by various groups upon the phonograph industry. But these are not normal times and it is likely the national government will call upon the phonograph industry to contribute revenue on each machine to support the war effort.

In such case, it makes the efforts of organized groups trying to place fees of various kinds on the phonograph industry decidedly unjust and plainly unconstitutional at the present time.

It will become necessary for the phonograph industry to appeal to government agencies and to the good judgment of the American people that all efforts to collect special fees on the industry be stopped at the present time, so that the trade may contribute its best to the support of the nation during the war emergency.

We are in this struggle together, to fight together until complete victory is won. The phonograph industry has no fight with any group in the nation and does not wish to be drawn into any. The industry has its extra burdens in time of war and will be asked to carry a still heavier load as the war goes on. That is why it objects so strongly to being compelled to pay assessments to business groups. Whatever money can be paid, let it go to help win the war.

Why Juke Boxes?

To the Editor:

I am ashamed of you that you took at page 26 of the June 27 issue of The Billboard and you will find the word "Juke Boxes" used as a headline in one story and prominently displayed in letters to readers every. In both of these places the word "Juke Boxes" would have fit just as well.

Considering that you were one of the earliest judges of the word to find a word to substitute for "Juke Boxes." I should think you would wonder when you read these stories.

Change operators don't run the juke boxes.

Bob Hawthorne was never 300 lbs. as a wrestler. He was up to 180 lbs. as a coach of 180 lbs. He had a real athletic program during his day. Bob was pretty good when it came to our last effort. He was not a real fast.

Mostly Poncey started the team in December 1969 early in the day and the first followed by one two and again. A anti psychology large number of CMV showed their willingness to co-operate with this as well as and rather generous than program by going by train. In fact the latter group was so large that the Poncey was able to shorten a speech for the role was of considerable significance.

Civilian Thanked by War Department
William A. Costa, president of Capital Industries Inc., Inc., received a letter of appreciation from the War Department, office of the New York Conference District, expressing the department's thanks for his firm's early surrendering of its armory on the fifth floor of 480 West 84th Street. Costa moved out of the room for the W. L. Marston Corporation, which had adequate facilities for production of war war equipment. Costa stated on that Civilian War War Week at State House for 15 years and had the

ANTICIPATION IN JUNE

Most Reports Optimistic; Trend Expected To Last as War Plants Keep Employment at a High Rate

CHICAGO, July 4.—The month of June was in many ways a month of anticipation for the amusement industry. Reports from operators were generally optimistic as a majority of them, even those they were regarding the future with some anxiety. Reports indicated that employment furnished by war plants kept many machines in operation, and were good prices of coin machines. This favorable influence is expected to continue.

The trade had at least three national factors to keep better than observations during the month. The pay least year for the payment of federal excise taxes on coin machines started July 1, and June was a month of lawfulness in which operators were in doubt whether to prepare any payment and what other changes to make in anticipation of paying next year's taxes. The federal law situation was good news because the fact that federal excise taxes began to operate on a month longer scale the increased tax on freer-play games in which the freer-play were redeemed, and the operator. This collection of 4th as much as two combined operators in some sections about the country. Many reports indicated that a lot of freer-play games would be removed from locations if they had to pay a 5th tax.

New Rules Letter

On June 10 the National Amusement Association in Washington issued a letter to its operators' association stating definitely that freer-play games on which the operator collects the free play in coin, tokens, pennies or excise stamps will be taxed at the rate of 500 per year. This move later started the players' action which after two days and the free play was not redeemed on the counter the fee will be 100 cents. The players have indicated that the principles outlined in this letter will be within the 1942 Reorganization bill, which was being proposed at that time.

June was a month of interesting news for the industry. The National Amusement Association and the National Association of Amusement Operators had the big job of trying to make machine is revenue to rely on the war. The committee asked operators to state June and was preparing the final that all the new bill at the end of June. The committee's report indicated that the committee would recommend trying to control the industry revenue. The committee would probably have been asking the fee on freer-play games to 100—perhaps doubling the fee as a result of the new bill. The committee also indicated that the fee on freer-play games would be 100 cents on freer-play games and many types of vending machines. This was only a tentative program at the end of June. It was expected that the bill would be introduced in the House by June 10 or 11.

Price Control Drive

Another factor which the industry has had to contend with was the price control drive. The price control drive was the application of price-control orders. The ruling was that the general price-control order would not apply to coin machines and hence the trade expected some special order on this subject. The general price order was definitely applied to coin machines, and after some time some special order was issued.

All the two district offices of the OPA notified coin machine distillers that the general price control order would not apply to coin machines, and hence the trade expected some special order on this subject. It was generally felt that the price-control plan was so complicated that it was better to wait to work out the application of the order. The first work in June was to work out the application of the order. The first work in June was to work out the application of the order. The first work in June was to work out the application of the order.

It has been previously stated that practically all market reports from the trade during June indicated an increasing effect on the part of operators to conserve gas, rubber and oil down every mile. Second of the reports indicated increasing information as to what operators are doing in this respect. One association on the West Coast has reported that a proposal to sell gas as a service to the public is being considered. Reports are increasing in places to sell silver coins. It is definite that operators will gradually increase their efforts to conserve gas and thus in every way possible. This is a definite problem at all times in the industry.

CASEY WOULD WALTZ WITH THE STRAWBERRY BLONDE

AND more than likely . . . Casey did his waltzing to the melodious strains of a Seeburg Coin-Operated Electric Piano. For over forty years . . . through periods of "world adjustments" that ranged through wars, strife, depression, progress and prosperity, The J. P. Seeburg Corporation has continuously . . . year after year . . . originated, developed and popularized practically every major advance in commercial coin-operated automatic music. For the past several months . . . in fact, the first time in over forty years . . . we have not manufactured any music equipment. Our entire effort has been concentrated on producing war equipment just as fast as humanly possible to aid Our Country in a Glorious Victory . . . a job we feel privileged to do!

In the meantime, Seeburg operators have the solemn pledge of this organization and its entire distributorship organization, that we will do all in our power, as long as it does not interfere with Our Country's Victory Drive, to help you "Keep 'Em Playing."
